

To Whom it May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter of recommendation for Nolan. During his summer internship with our team at PNC, Nolan consistently demonstrated professionalism, curiosity, strong technical aptitude, and a genuine commitment to learning and contributing to the organization.

Throughout his internship, Nolan quickly adapted to a fast-paced technology environment and approached new challenges with enthusiasm and determination. He consistently showed initiative by asking thoughtful questions, seeking to understand both the technical and business aspects of the work, and taking ownership of assigned responsibilities. His willingness to learn and continuously improve allowed him to make meaningful contributions in a relatively short period of time.

One particularly noteworthy accomplishment during Nolan's internship was his participation in the Venture Vault Finale, where his team earned first place among competing intern teams. This achievement showcased Nolan's ability to collaborate effectively, think creatively, and contribute to innovative solutions under tight timelines. Throughout the competition, he demonstrated strong problem-solving skills, professionalism, and a willingness to take ownership of key deliverables. Winning the Venture Vault Finale reflected not only his technical and analytical abilities, but also his leadership potential, teamwork, and commitment to excellence.

Based on my experience working with Nolan, I am confident that he will continue to excel in his educational pursuits and make meaningful contributions to any organization or community he joins. He possesses the character, discipline, and potential that programs seek to support and develop.

I strongly recommend Nolan for your consideration. Please feel free to contact me if additional information would be helpful.

Sincerely,

Wenting Wang

MLOps
Data & Automation (DnA)
PNC Bank